HEAD-QUARTERS
DISTRICT OF THE PLAINS,
Denver, Colorado,
April 4th, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 2.

I. The following order is published for the information of all concerned:

"HEAD-QUARTERS
DEP'T OF THE MISSOURI,
St. Louis, Mo.,
March 31st, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 37.

The teams of freighters and emigrants crossing the plains, and the arms and ammunition of the parties accompanying them, will not be seized or interfered with by the army officers or troops of this command.

By command of

MAJOR GENERAL DODGE.

J. W. BARNES, Ass't Adj't General."

The General commanding this District further orders that, under no circumstance is any kind of property belonging to citizens to be "pressed" or taken by the troops of this command. Any officer or soldier violating this order will immediately be placed in arrest and charges forwarded to these Head Quarters for disobedience of orders and also for larceny.

II. The troops stationed on the Overland Mail Route will render such assistance to the Overland Mail Company as will ensure the speedy transmittal of the mails. Escorts will not interfere with the speed or movements of the mail coaches, unless danger is apprehended and it should become necessary for the safety of the passengers and mails. If at any time any driver of the Overland Mail Stage should refuse, through fear or otherwise, to drive over his route, commanding officers will detail suitable soldiers for that duty. The Overland Mail must not again be stopped.

III. Neither contracts nor purchases will be made in this District without being first approved by these, or Department, Head-Quarters.

IV. Post commanders will, on receipt of this order, immediately forward to these Head-Quarters returns of troops under their command. Also, a roster of all commissioned officers of the same (whether present or absent) giving rank, regiment and company. Date of commissions. Date of muster into service and the nature of the duty they are performing. By command of

BRIG. GENERAL CONNOR.

GEO. F. PRICE, Act. Ass't Adj't General.

Official: GEO. F. PRICE,

THE NEW RATION FOR SOLDIERS.—Professor Horsford, of Harvard University, has been engaged for some time upon an investigation of the army ration. The attention of this able scientific gentleman was directed to this important subject under the auspices of the Medical Bureau, by which he has been heartily sustained. His examination resulted in a recommendation to substitute roast wheat for hard bread, meat sausage in the place of salt beef, pork, etc., and self raising flour in place of soft bread for a marching ration. General Grant has been so favorably impressed with the great importance of the proposed change that he requested the Secretary of War to order a half million of the rations to be prepared and issued for trial, and the Secretary has given an order for the immediate execution of the suggestion of the Lieutenant General. The value and importance of the Professor's marching ration may be easily appreciated, when it is stated that thirty days' rations can be carried by troops with less difficulty than eight of the present ration.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 26, 1865

Sherman's False Step.

This seems to be pre-eminently the era of great surprises. We have hardly time to recover from one electric shock before the telegraph announces some new event equally or even more startling than the last until, fed on excitement as we have been for four years past, the public mind is kept in a state of continued relapse to the fever point, which has become its chronic condition.

Just now everybody is startled by the announcement that Sherman, on whom public confidence has learned to rely as upon a rock, Sherman, the great campaigner and faithful patriot, had forgotten the first duty of a soldier and disobeyed orders, compromising the Government by treating with rebels in arms. Rumor, as usual, distorting the facts, gave the impression that there was something afoot looking a little like an attempt at military dictation. This, however, the tenor of the dispatches proved to be unfounded, but the severe censure brought forth by the mere suspicion, shows clearly how little, with Americans, the admiration of men, however brilliant, interferes with or clouds the deep and abiding love of country, which is at once our safety and our greatest glory.

But we can see nothing in the dispatches justifying a doubt of Gen. Sherman's good faith in his action with the rebel General looking towards peace. The expediency of holding any such conference at all, may be properly questioned, but not the honesty of intention, as we think. That it was a false step seems to be fully appreciated by those who have the directing of our National affairs, but an explanation is found in the idiosyncrasies of Sherman with regard to the people of the South, which must have been noticed by those who have read his recent correspondence, that has found its way into print.

But it seems passing strange that any one, at this time, should think of permitting such a concession to rebels and thus undo, by a moment of weakness in the hour of victory, all of the good effects to be hoped from the severe lesson in obedience, which we have been at such pains to teach the Southern traitors for the last four years. It must not be forgotten that they have appealed for their fancied rights from peaceful tribunals to the bloody arbitrament of arms, and from this decision there is, or should be, no further appeal for them, save to the mercy of the Nation they have strived so madly to destroy. It illy becomes them even to demand, or us to concede, other terms than unconditional submission and surrender. After that, will be the time, if ever, to talk of terms.

It is because they have all along known success to be hopeless, that they have sought to take the settlement of their difficulties out of the President's hands, where it is placed by the Constitution, and transfer it to those of Military Commanders, where it does not, and should never, belong. Can we not trace some connection between this scheme and the conspiracy to strike down at one fell swoop, not only Abraham Lincoln, but the heads of the civil Government, and thus allow all authority to lapse into military hands and make a temporary dictatorship almost a necessity.

One could hardly conceive of anything more dangerous to the Republic, and it is a scheme worthy of the men who planned the rebellion. But in this they have failed, as in all else, succeeding only in showing the malignancy of their treason.

DEPARTURE. — On Monday, Capt M. G. Lewis, A. A. G. and Capt. Chas. H. Hempstead, A. C. S. departed by stage for the east, the former to stop at Denver and the latter under orders to proceed to New Orleans. It is not too much to say that both of these gentlemen leave a circle of friends behind them, only limited by the extent of their acquaintance, all of whom will give them a hearty God speed.

Long and intimately associated with them, knowing their many excellent qualities of head and heart, we feel the deeper regret of near friendship at losing their kindly companionship. Both possess in an emminent degree, all those generous characteristics of the true gentleman, which make association a pleasure and render separation a regret.

Wherever their duties may lead them, from our hearts we wish, that all blessings may follow them, that fall to the lot of men. If it bring satisfaction, when leaving those with whom we have quaffed the cup of joy or sadness, to reflect that there are none behind but wish us well and would welcome our return with the cordial hand of fellowship, then these, our friends, are possessed of that satisfaction.

Capt. Hempstead leaves his family in Salt Lake City, while Capt. L. bears with him, as we are credibly informed, the lacerated hearts of Lord knows how many disconsolate widows, who "knew him but to love him, who named him but to praise," now alas! looking vainly for the coming of the fugacious Cupid that cometh not again—heigho!

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

New York, 24th.

The Times' special says: Mosby secured a basis of agreement similar to that obtained by Johnston. A person present at the consultation informs the correspondent that the memorandum or basis of agreement was drawn up by Gen. Chapman, in the presence of twenty-two Federal and twenty rebel officers, and provided that Mosby should surrender upon the same terms as Johnston, if the latter should surrender, and that two days armistice should be allowed to submit the agreement to Gen. Hancock for his approval, and that if Hancock approved, then ten days were to be allowed Mosby to get a reply from Johnston, and in the mean time, no skirmishing should take place in Forquer or Loudon counties. That if Johnston failed to surrender or got whipped, Mosby would surrender on the terms upon which Lee surrendered.

The World's special says: A letter from Burksville, Va., states that some of the paroled men from Lee's army had been detected in tearing up the railroad between that place and Richmond. The parties are not caught; but if arrested, they are liable to be tried immediately, and shot for a violation of the paroles.

The same adds, that the last remnant of Lee's army, composed of some dozen wagons and old ambulances, had taken their melancholy departure for home.

A good many of Lee's old officers declare they can never live in the South or North, and they shall either go to Europe or Mexico; though they prefer to join the North and enforce the Monroe doctrine on the latter.

The Tribune's Washington special says: So many paroled rebel prisoners have arrived there, their former place of residence, that the government will have to take some action to rid the city of their presence.

It has been deemed proper to place a guard around the residence of Chief Justice Chase.

About twelve per cent. of the clerks in the bureau of deserters have been dismissed as unnecessary.

The steamer Blackstone, from Hilton Head, 20th, brings Savannah papers to the 19th.

The Herald of the 18th says: Intelligence was received there on the 15th confirming the news of the fall of Montgomery. The place was evacuated by the rebels and occupied by the Federals on the 11th. The rebels retreated in the direction of Columbus.

Government stores are being removed from Columbus, the fall of which place is expected by the next news from Augusta.

A Savannah letter of the 19th says: the receipt of the intelligence of the sad calamity that has befallen the nation, has cast the profoundest gloom over the city. Flags are suspended at half mast and other emblems of mourning are seen everywhere. A meeting was held at Hilton Head, at which resolutions condoling with the nation and the family of the deceased, and calling for the most vigirous prosecution of the war were adopted. On the 20th seven arrests were made at Hilton Head, On receipt of the sad intelligence in Savannah, Gen. Grover requested the papers to withhold it until the next morning and doubled the guards throughout the city.

Trenton, N. J., April 24th.

The funeral train reached here at 5 30 a. m.

Gov. Barker and staff of N. J. were taken aboard at Diving.

New Brunswick, N. J., April 24th.

The funeral train arrived here on time. An immense crowd at the depot. minute guns were fired while the train was here and until it left. The train consisted of 9 cars and left at 7.55.

New Orleans, April 18th.

It is reported that Jeff. Davis crossed the Mississippi River at Tinkers Bend which was occupied by Texas cavalry on the night of the 16th escaping the observation of the naval forces.

Washington, April 23d.

The proceedings of Gen. Sherman are unapproved for the following, among other reasons:

First. It was an exercise of authority not vested in Sherman, and its face shows that he and Johnson both knew that he (Sherman,) had no authority to enter into any such arrangement.

Second. It was a practical acknowledgment of the rebel government.

Third. It undertook to re-establish rebel State governments, which have been overthrown at the sacrifice of many thousand loyal lives and treasure, and placed arms and munitions of war in the hands of the rebels at their respective capitals, which might be used as soon as the armies of the United States were disbanded, to conquer or subdue loyal States.

Fourth. By the restoration of rebel authority in their respective States, they would be enabled to re-establish slavery.

Fifth. It might furnish a ground for responsibility by the Federal government to pay the rebel debt, and certainly subject loyal citizens of rebel States to debt consumed by rebels in the name of the State.

Sixth. It puts in dispute the existence of loyal State governments, and the new State of West Virginia, which has been recognized by every department of the United States government.

Seventh. It practically abolished the confiscation laws, relieved the rebels of every degree who slaughtered our people, from all the pains and penalties for their crime.

Eighth. It gave terms that have been deliberately, repeatedly and solemnly rejected by President Lincoln, and better terms than the rebels had ever asked in their most prosperous condition.

Ninth. It formed no basis of a true and lasting peace, but relieved the rebels from the pressure of our victories and left them in a condition to renew their efforts to overthrow the United States government and subdue the loyal States whenever their strength was recruited and opportunity should offer.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 23d.

Among the trophies of Stoneman's expedition are twelve battle flags and banners. One old U. S. flag was found in the house of a loyal citizen at Salisbury. A famous pen, where many unfortunate Union prisoner pined their lives away, was burned to the ground. A few Union prisoners were found to be skeletons of their former selves as the most of them died on the way to Knoxville.

Washington, April 24th.

To Dix:—A dispatch from Sherman states that Wilson held Macon on the 20th, with Howell Cobb, G. W. Smith, and others as prisoners; but they claimed the benefit of armistice. He has telegraphed to me through the rebel lines for orders. I have answered him, that he may draw out of Macon and hold his command for further orders; unless, he has reason to believe that the rebels are changing their status to our prejudice. This Department has information that the President's murder was organized in Canada and approved at Richmond. One of the assassins now in prison, and who attempted to kill Seward, is believed to be one of the St. Albans raiders,

[Signed] STANTON.

New York, April 24th.

The Post's special says, arrangements have been made for prosecuting the war with overwhelming energy.

Capt. Smith, of Brig. Gen. J. Titus' staff, from Bermuda, reports that the U. S. Consul there, had learned that one Dr. Blackburn, of Wilmington, N. C., had collected four bales of infected clothing from hospitals, which he intended to ship to New York for the purpose of spreading the yellow fever in that city. The clothing was seized and was to be burned.

The Augusta Constitutionalist of the 12th says: Jeff Davis has gone either to the trans Mississippi Department or Europe, taking with him half a million of specie.

The Lake City, Florida, Columbian announces that Gov. Milton, of Florida, has committed suicide by shooting himself.

Raleigh, N. C., 19th.

The General commanding announces to the army that a suspension of hostilities and an agreement with Gen. Johnston and his officers, which, when formally ratified, will make peace from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, and until absolute peace is arranged, the line passing through Tyrell's, Mount Chapel Hill, Durham's Station and West Point, on the Neuse River, will seperate the two armies; each army commander will groupe his corps entirely with a view to comfort. Military discipline must still be maintained, and the General hopes and believes that in a very few days it will be his good fortune to conduct you all to your homes. The fame of this army for courage, industry and discipline, is admitted all over the world. Let each officer and man see that it is not stained by any act of vulgarity, rowdyism and petty crimes.

The cavalry will patrol in front of the lines.

General Howard will take charge of the district from Raleigh up to the cavalry. Gen. Slocum the left of Raleigh, Gen. Schofield in Raleigh and its right and rear.

Quartermasters and Commissaries will keep their supplies up to light loads for wagons, and the railroad superintendent will arrange a depot for the conveyance of each separate army.

(Signed) SHERMAN.

Fortress Monroe, April 22d.

Advices from Newbern state that a large number of members of the North Carolina Legislature arrived there on the 19th, for the purpose of negotiating with Sherman, with a view to restoring that State to the Union. Gen. Grant arrived here this afternoon from Washington, and proceeded southward on the steamer Alhambra.

Washington, 9 a. m., April 24th.

The Secretary of State is free from pain and stronger this morning. Mr. F. Seward passed a quiet night.

Cincinnati, April 24th.

Heuston Hall, Dayton, was destroyed by fire this morning; loss $70.000.

Philadelphia, April 24th.

The body of President Lincoln remained in state until 1 o'clock; at 3 o'clock the line of march was taken to the Trenton depot.

New York, 21st.

There has been a general cessation of business during the week, in consequence of the national calamity. For three days all the stores and banks have been closed. Wall street is deserted. There will not be much done until after the funeral of the late President. Gold, to-day, is firm at 1.50. Foreign Exchange, 1.10. There is an easy feeling in money, greater than ever, and supply of capital still largely in excess of demand. Currency sets strongly towards this point. We do not look for much activity before the policy of the new administration is defined. Call loans range from five to six per cent, with some business at four. Discount market dull, with little commercial paper offering; first class and good names pass at seven to nine per cent. There is nothing transpiring in Freights or in California produce.

New York, April 24th.

Per the City of Washington, from Liverpool the 12th. Queenstown 13th:

Melbourne advices of February 23d, give a detail of the troubles between the government and the rebel cruiser Shenandoah. An application to repair was granted and the vessel placed on the slip and work proceeded. On the 13th of February, however, a police warrant was issued for a British subject, alledged to have been enlisted on the Shenandoah. The officers of the vessel refused to let the warrant be executed. Orders were then issued that all British subjects should cease working on the repairs, and a strong police force was placed to see that the order was carried out and to enforce neutrality. Subsequently all persons who had illegally joined the crew, were removed from the vessel and the repairs allowed to proceed. The ship would be ordered to leave port at the earliest date. Considerable excitement attended the affair.

The London Times points out the hardships inflicted on shippers by Seward's order, that vessels arriving in America with any passengers unprovided with passports, are not allowed to discharge their cargoes, and charges the American government with a policy of isolation in commercial matters.

The French Chamber debated an amendment to address the opposing French policy in Mexico. Mr. Rocher energetically repelled the anticipation of war, between France and the United States and claims, France had maintained a sacred neutrality and Lincoln's messages indicate a desire for the maintainance of peace with France under the regard for her security, he has not formed an impious wish that civil war should continue, he maintained that the United States had no interest in annexing Mexico, and repudiated the idea of our showing a necessity for the French flag remaining a few months more in Mexico, the amendment was repelled.

The Calcutta correspondent of the London Times gives some startling facts in progress of Russia toward India.

The arrival of the Tallahasse at Liverpool was reported in the latest telegram per Persia, she is still there, it is reported she is re-christened the Amelia and will be shortly placed in the merchant service, she continued however to fly the confederate flag.

The Times publishes a letter from O'Sullivan, late American Minister to Portugal, on the affair of the Niagara and Sacramento, at Lisbon. He repudiates the idea that there was any backing down on the part of Portugal, and asserted that that Government acted with unimpeachable dignity and propriety throughout, and it was bound to apologise for firing from the fort after the vessels signified an acknowledgement of the summons. O'Sullivan says, a friend at Lisbon informed him that the Stonewall waited outside Lisbon, in Cascaco bay, several hours beyond the twenty-four, in the vain hope of being followed by the Federal vessels, and he wishes Capt. Craven well out of the attack of the Northern press, for having deemed it his duty to decline the proffered challenge of the little iron-clad, whose step he seems dodging at a vigilant but respectful distance.

The Africa's news had not much effect, but 5-20's improved, while the Confederate loan slightly declined.

The Times says: Efforts are making to resuscitate the blockade running, and it is reported that vessels of a new class are preparing for beaching on the Florida coast.

Local Matters.

We were honored on Saturday last with a visit from Capt. Chas. H. Hempstead, C. S. U. S. Vols, who called to give us the parting hand, and to say the final "good bye." Capt. Hempstead, during the period of his long association with us, at the head of the Vedette office. as its editor, not only wielded an able pen; but his articles were ever replete with fiery eloquence, and were writen in tones, bespeaking for him the eminent scholar, the able editor, the thorough gentleman and the accomplished master of his every subject. Besides being an efficient officer, ever attentive, honorable and thoroughly conversant with the ardous duties devolved upon a Commissary of Subsistence, he has that amiable disposition, blended with intelligence, seldom attained by man, which won for him the friendship and exalted esteem of both the soldier and citizen.

In his intercourse with the community of Utah, he was ever held as one worthy of trust, respect and confidence; his talent and eloquence on more than one occasion, has been pronounced and commented upon by all, in eulogies of praise; while his universal deportment has won for him friendship and true regard. His connection with the attachés of the Vedette, was ever of the most agreeable nature. His courtesy and urbanity of manner, and his business qualifications, secured for him the undivided esteem and respect of one and all of the employés of our establishment.

He goes now to another sphere, and we say, with sorrowful hearts, good bye, and may his path through life, with all its public and domestic duties and cares, be fraught with the full conciousness of having done well.

As he bids farewell to his home in Utah, our best wishes go with him, for a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Somebody among the Provost Guard, in S. L. City, has, in the performance of duty, (which all of them will ever do) seriously "riled" the editor of the Dead Sea Telegraph. Blue clothing and brass buttons, notwithstanding his occasional outward mockery of patriotism, seem to be a manifest "eye sore" to the head of the S. L. City Daily. Bad policy for you, brother T. B. H. Your frequent sarcasms, so profusely thrust at the volunteers in this District, illy bespeak any love for that "Old Flag" you were so anxious to find.

Change of Time.—On and after Thursday, the 27th inst., the Overland Mail Company's coaches will leave Salt Lake City for the West every day at 1 o'clock P. M.—instead of 9 A. M., as heretofore. See advertisement.
